THE ATHENÆUM GIVES UP ITS GHOSTS!

Offering an exclusive look at its haunted nooks and crannies, the 111-year old Athenaeum (which houses the Rathskeller, the YMCA and The American Cabaret Theatre) has teamed up with Historic Indiana Ghost Walks and Tours (part of Unseenpress.com, Inc.), a paranormal tour and book publisher is co-sponsoring a hair raising event.

Visit the former autopsy lecture hall and the rooms where immigrants used to live when they first arrived in Indianapolis. With its dark maze of hallways, it's haunted former lecture halls and the ghosts of the theater, this tour is sure to leave you breathless and excited. A small refreshment reception is also included.

Visitors and residents alike have enjoyed the Athenaeum and its diverse offerings of things to do and see. Paring with Unseenpress.com, Inc., the leading authority on paranormal happenings in Indiana is a powerful combination. With the addition of learning about the Riley area and the Athenaeum's rich history as a community center and private club is something not to be missed.

The Athenaeum was built between 1893 and 1898 as Das Deutsche Haus (The German House), a German-American Turnverein, clubhouse & community center. The Athenaeum Foundation is a not-for-profit organization, formed in 1991, dedicated to restoring this architectural treasure. The Foundation's mission is to revitalize the Athenaeum so that it may serve the Indianapolis community as a center for the arts, entertainment, and physical fitness, while preserving and maintaining its unique historical character.

Unseenpress.com, Inc. was founded in 2001 and has become the leading authority on the paranormal in Indiana. The company has been featured on Fox 59, in the Noblesville Daily Times, in Intake Weekly, in Better Homes and Gardens Magazine, on ghost talk radio and in ghost research newsletters.
